Week ending 6th June

Welcome back after our half term break. We are all looking forward to our exciting trip to London next week. This fantastic opportunity will support the children's topic based learning and as well broadening their experiences of travelling around our country. Let's hope the weather is kind to us! Thank you for supporting us with this and arranging to bring your children to the station.

It was lovely to see so many preschool parents at the open sessions this week. Sharing your children's early learning experiences is a valuable part of their education as well as giving a wonderful insight to their continuous progress. Thank you for completing our evaluation forms, your feedback is greatly appreciated.
