Inspire, Enjoy, Achieve
25th November 2016

The children have enjoyed another couple of very busy weeks in school. Squirrels class have impressed me with their knowledge of the Antarctic and the animals found there. Badgers class have been investigating rocks and soils in Science and Otters explored gases and chemical reactions in a great experiment with balloons and bicarbonate of soda! Rabbits and Hedgehogs entertain me on a regular basis with their joint singing activities in the hall-well done!

As the weather is now distinctly more wintry could you please ensure that your children are dressed appropriately. They all need to be wearing a sweatshirt over their T shirts and have a warm coat and suitable footwear for the weather.

As you are aware there is a consultation underway to discuss proposals to expand the school, please do speak to me or come to one of the meetings to find out more information.

We are now preparing for our Christmas performances during which we will be holding our annual Christmas hamper raffles-more information to follow, I am looking forward to seeing you all there.
