

Highlights from this week

We have been busy exploring and investigating our early science tuff trays. We have been focusing on floating and sinking activities. We have enjoyed creating small boats to set sail on our water trays! This week we have been thinking about Ernest Shackleton's adventures.

The children wanted to revisit their learning about space and we have also made large rockets out of giant cardboard boxes!

Forest School - Long sleeves and leggings or tracksuits are a must! No shorts please! This is to protect your child.

At Preschool - A polite request - no crocs at school. Please remember your sun hats! Thank you!

Next week in Cherry Class

Next week we will be learning about the mountaineers Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay.

We will sort different types of clothing and think about what clothing would be good in different situations.

We will continue to read the story about Michael Recycle. A super hero who helps clean up Abberdoo-Rimey!
