

Highlights from this week

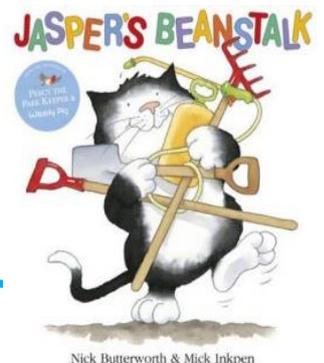

We have had a great week learning about farm animals and their offspring. We used shapes as stencils to create lots of animals. The drawings of hens were superb! We also made lots and lots of cute fluffy lambs using cotton wool. We created our own lift the flap books based on Rod Campbell's book, "Noisy Farm". We played lots of different games to support our maths skills and we practised hearing the initial sound in words. We have been busy working on a special project which will be coming home with your child next week. Finally, we have enjoyed using different size brushes and water to make marks all over our garden. An excellent mark making activity.

Next Week in Cherry Class

We will focus our learning on Nick Butterworth's book, "Jasper's Bean Stalk". We will create our own beanstalks with a variety of resources.

We will continue to look after our class cress seeds. We enjoy describing the changes we notice every day.

We will share our Marvellous Me books and practise our conversational skills with our friends. We will look at our baby photos and talk about how we have changed and grown. Finally, we will use scissors to make snips in paper.

Conversations!

Perhaps you could show your child your baby photos and talk about what you were like when you were small! This will not only support their listening skills but may also introduce lots of new super words into their vocabulary.

Our topic for next term will be learning about all kinds animals.....

.....Farm animals, woodland animals, wild and endangered animals and those that are found in the arctic and antarctic. Perhaps you could share fiction and non-fiction books about animals. Does your child have a favourite animal?
